Software Developer

Software Developer with experience training and managing a small team of people. I strive to create products that will keep people entertained and invested in the product at hand. My goal is to design and develop applications that pull users into the experience and give them a sense of contribution.

Development Projects

OutfitterExpert.com

Designing and developing a full-stack web application for OutfitterExpert a startup company based in Austin, Texas that hosts an online travel booking marketplace for hunting and fishing. Using MySQL database commands to sort and filter by region, species, trip price, etc. This ensures that all desired trips are easy to advertise, search, compare and book. This project is being built using a combination of Spring, Thymeleaf, Java, jQuery Bootstrap, and CSS.

SeasonSure

A weather app that allows you to search for a location on the map or move your marker to view a 4, or 8-day forecast. Built using HTML, CSS, Openweathermap API, Mapbox API, JavaScript, jQuery and Bootstrap.

Movie Listing

Co-developed a movie poster website that displays information about the movie. Information displayed ranges from the director, to user ratings. The program interacts with a JSON database by using the RESTful API to push and pull information to and from a database.
