Development Projects

Hilltop-Liquors

Hilltop-Liquors is a full-stack e-commerce application created using Spring Boot, Thymeleaf, Java, Javascript, MySQL Bootstrap, CSS, and HTML. Desiring an online order application with e-commerce and curbside pickup options, the application solves the unique constraints put on mom and pop shops during the pandemic. It is also equipped with a fully operational back-end operating system allowing the manager to import CSV files directly into the database and upload new content to be displayed on the front-end. Our team of 3 worked together to create and deploy this project at hilltop-liquors.com

Adlister

A full-stack Java application that implements the MVC design pattern, using JSPs, Servlets, JavaBeans, mySQL, BCrypt, and Bootstrap. Upon registration, users of Adlister can create, view, and update business status' as well as current events upon registration; registered users are also able to update unique account information.

Movie Project

Attained experience through HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, Javascript, npm, Ajax, and API requests through the creation of a working movie library that allows users to update, create, and edit an existing movie database without page refresh.

Weather Project

Utilized HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, jQuery and Ajax requests to display five-day day Weather forecast based on user search requests, map drag, or both through the implementation of Mapbox API with built-in geocoding.
