Development Projects

- |                        |  |
|------------------------|--|
| Sidecar.live           | Live website catering to the motorcyclist community built using Spring Boot and Thymeleaf. Uses the Google Maps API to show user-added routes, points of interest, and events on a map local to the user. Heavy use of JS/jQuery to work with the map API. All information is stored in a MySQL database. The website is hosted on a digitalocean droplet. |
| RadLister              | An adlister application built using Java EE that allows users to create accounts and post ads. The website is styled with Bootstrap and holds all the user's information and posts in a MySQL database.  |
| Movie Database Project | A front-end application that utilizes two movie APIs to display a list of user-chosen movies they have rated, the poster, and information about those films like release date, director, etc. Styled in Bootstrap, uses JS arrays/objects to imitate working with a database.  |
