Software Developer, with experience with HTML, CSS, Javascript, Java, React, Thymeleaf, Bootstrap, and other technologies. Looking to find a company where I can grow and challenge myself every day. Previously served Active Duty in the US Air Force working security at the largest nuclear weapon facility on the planet. With my development skills, I look forward to being a team player that can learn from others while simultaneously using code to solve business problems.

Technical Skills

HTML - CSS - Bootstrap - JavaScript - jQuery - Java SE - Java EE (Servlets, JSP) - Spring - MySQL - Thymeleaf - React - Object-Oriented Programming - Test-Driven Development - Version Control with Git - Paired Programming

Development Projects

Weather Map Project

Web application that displays a city on a map and shows the current weather of the city being searched.

Environment: Tools used include HTML, CSS, JavaScript, bootstrap, Mapbox, jQuery

Adlister Project

<https://github.com/Gutierrez-Osbey-Johnson-AdLister/java-adlister/tree/Corey-Osbey>

A Team based web application that functions similar to Craigslist that allows users to create an account with the abilities to create, edit, and delete ads.

Environment: Java

Capstone Project <https://github.com/Corey-Vicente-Ryan-Malik>

The Locker Room is a sports-based Full-Stack Application. The purpose of this application is to provide those die-hard fans with quick access to the information that matters without all the extra clutter and distractions. The application will host their favorite Team's Seasonal and Divisional Records, NFL news coverage, Player information with injury updates, and of course; a schedule listing all games that will play that week with Game Score and Quarter updates.

Environment: React JS and Spring Boot
